Igor Katsuba

Principal Engineer

Limassol, Cyprus

Summary

Passionate frontend developer and open-source enthusiast dedicated to creating engaging, performant web applications and tools. With numerous personal open-source projects, I actively contribute to the developer community, sharing knowledge, tools, and best practices. I also enjoy organizing and hosting events focused on AI, programming, architecture, and the latest trends in big tech. Committed to mentoring developers, fostering collaboration, and continuously exploring new technologies to drive innovation and inspire growth.

Experience

Plata Card

Principal Engineer

December 2022 - March 2025 (2 years 4 months)

I help developers get the most out of PLATA's tools and technologies by bridging the gap between engineering teams and users. My role combines technical expertise with community engagement to foster a strong developer ecosystem.

What I do:

- Create technical content, write articles, and provide guidance on Angular, TypeScript, JavaScript, and DevOps
- Manage and engage with our Slack community, answering questions and leading discussions
- Explore and evaluate new technologies to enhance our development processes
- Organize meetups, workshops, and internal discussions to drive innovation
- Support teams in adopting best practices for frontend development and DevOps

Why I love it:

I enjoy diving deep into complex technologies and sharing knowledge with fellow developers. At PLATA, I work with an amazing team of engineers, shaping internal products and contributing to a better development experience.

Open to tech discussions, collaborations, and knowledge sharing!

Tinkoff Bank

Technical Lead

March 2020 - December 2022 (2 years 10 months)

Services and Tooling.

Companies reach out to me when they need an alternative to a public service they can't use due to specific security requirements or payment issues. For example, I developed an alternative to Nx Cloud to speed up builds and save time for CI/CD agents and developers.

DevRel and IT Branding

Writing articles, speaking at conferences, and hosting internal JavaScript meetings.
